

General Workplace Safety Policy

Category: General | Effective: January 2025 | Version 1.0

The General Workplace Safety Policy is designed to ensure a safe and healthy working environment for all employees at inmind.ai. This policy aligns with Lebanese Labour Law provisions, particularly clauses addressing workplace safety and employee welfare, and incorporates industry best practices to minimize risks and promote a culture of safety. Ensuring workplace safety is a shared responsibility between the employer and employees, and this policy outlines specific procedures, eligibility criteria, timelines, exceptions, responsibilities, and compliance measures to foster a secure work environment.

1. Employer Responsibilities

- The company commits to providing a safe working environment, free from hazards that could result in injury, illness, or damage to property.
- Regular safety audits and inspections will be conducted quarterly to identify potential risks and implement corrective measures.
- All employees will have access to necessary protective equipment (e.g., gloves, helmets, goggles) based on the nature of their roles. The company will provide this equipment at no cost to the employee.
- Comprehensive safety training programs will be organized for all employees during their onboarding process, with mandatory refresher training sessions conducted annually.
- Emergency response protocols, including evacuation procedures, will be clearly communicated and practiced through drills conducted at least twice a year.
- The company will investigate workplace incidents thoroughly within five business days of occurrence, documenting findings and implementing corrective actions to prevent recurrence.
- All safety policies and procedures will be reviewed annually to ensure compliance with Lebanese Labour Law and updates in industry standards.

2. Employee Responsibilities

- Employees must adhere strictly to all safety guidelines provided by the company and participate actively in safety training programs.
- Employees are required to use protective equipment provided by the company when performing tasks that pose potential risks.
- Any unsafe conditions, hazards, or incidents must be reported immediately to the employee's direct supervisor or the HR department.
- Employees must familiarize themselves with emergency response protocols and actively participate in drills and related activities.
- Smoking, alcohol consumption, and the use of illegal substances are strictly prohibited within company premises. Non-compliance may result in disciplinary action, including termination, in accordance with Lebanese Labour Law.
- Employees must cooperate fully with investigations into workplace incidents and follow any corrective measures implemented.

3. Eligibility Criteria

- This policy applies to all employees, regardless of role, contract type, or seniority, including full-time, part-time, and temporary workers.
- External contractors, freelancers, or visitors to the premises must also adhere to the company's safety guidelines while on-site. These individuals will be briefed on relevant protocols before commencing work or entering restricted areas.

4. Procedures

- Reporting Unsafe Conditions: Employees should report unsafe conditions or hazards to their supervisor or HR immediately. Reports can be made verbally or in writing, and anonymous reporting options are available via the company's safety hotline or email.
- Incident Reporting and Investigation: In the event of an accident or near-miss incident, employees must notify their supervisor within 24 hours. The company will initiate an investigation within 48 hours, with a final report and recommended corrective actions completed within five business days.

- Emergency Response: Employees must follow the established emergency response protocols, which are detailed in the Employee Handbook and displayed in key areas around the workplace. These protocols include evacuation routes, assembly points, and contact information for emergency responders.
- Safety Training and Drills: All employees will undergo initial safety training during onboarding, with additional role-specific training provided as needed. Participation in periodic safety drills is mandatory.

5. Timelines

- Safety audits: Conducted quarterly.
- Safety training: Initial training during onboarding, with annual refresher sessions.
- Emergency drills: Conducted biannually (every six months).
- Investigation of incidents: Initiated within 48 hours of reporting, with a final report submitted within five business days.

6. Exceptions

- Employees with documented medical conditions that prevent the use of specific protective equipment must submit medical certification to HR. Where possible, reasonable accommodations will be made.
- In extreme circumstances, such as natural disasters or other emergencies outside the company's control, certain safety procedures may be adjusted to prioritize immediate employee safety.
- Visitors or external contractors refusing to comply with safety guidelines may be denied access to the premises.

7. Compliance and Disciplinary Action

- Non-compliance with this policy, including failure to follow safety guidelines, report hazards, or use protective equipment, may result in disciplinary action in accordance with the company's Disciplinary Policy and Lebanese Labour Law.
- Severe violations, such as intentional disregard for safety measures or engaging in prohibited activities (e.g., substance use on company premises), may lead to immediate termination.

8. Monitoring and Review

- The HR department, in collaboration with the Safety Committee, will monitor the implementation of this policy and ensure compliance. Annual reviews will be conducted to update the policy as needed, reflecting changes in Lebanese Labour Law or industry standards.

9. Fostering a Culture of Safety

This policy underscores the company's commitment to prioritizing employee welfare and operational safety. Employees are encouraged to actively contribute to a safe workplace by being vigilant, reporting concerns promptly, and supporting their colleagues in adhering to safety protocols. By fostering a culture of accountability and shared responsibility, inmind.ai aims to create a workplace where safety is not only a priority but a core value.
