

Performance Review Policy

Category: Performance Review | Effective: January 2025 | Version 1.0

Purpose

This Performance Review Policy outlines the standards, procedures, and responsibilities associated with employee performance evaluations at inmind.ai. This policy ensures compliance with Lebanese Labour Law, fosters a culture of continuous improvement, and promotes employee development while maintaining fairness and transparency.

Scope

This policy applies to all employees of inmind.ai, regardless of position, department, or contract type (permanent, part-time, or fixed-term), unless otherwise stated in the employment agreement.

Objectives

1. Assess employee performance against defined goals and competencies.
2. Identify areas of excellence and areas requiring improvement.
3. Facilitate open communication between employees and supervisors.
4. Promote career development and professional growth.
5. Align individual goals with organizational objectives.

Performance Review Cycle

At inmind.ai, a formal performance review is conducted annually, with a mid-year check-in to assess progress and provide feedback. Additional reviews may be conducted in the following cases:

1. At the end of a probationary period (refer to the Probationary Period Policy).
2. After significant role changes or promotions.
3. Upon an employee's request, subject to manager approval.

Eligibility Criteria

1. All full-time and part-time employees are subject to performance reviews.
2. Employees on probation will receive a review at the end of their probationary period.
3. Employees on extended leave (e.g., maternity leave, sick leave) will have their reviews deferred until they return to work and have had sufficient time (minimum one month) to demonstrate performance.

Review Process

1. Setting Goals and Expectations:
 - At the beginning of the performance cycle, managers and employees will collaboratively set SMART (Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant, Time-bound) goals.
 - Performance expectations, including key performance indicators (KPIs) and behavioral competencies, will be clearly outlined and documented.
2. Ongoing Feedback:
 - Managers are encouraged to provide regular feedback throughout the year to address performance issues promptly and recognize achievements.
 - Employees are encouraged to actively seek feedback to enhance their performance.
3. Self-Assessment:
 - Prior to the formal review meeting, employees will complete a self-assessment form, reflecting on their accomplishments, challenges, and development needs.
4. Manager Evaluation:
 - Managers will evaluate employee performance based on the following:
 - a. Achievement of pre-defined goals.
 - b. Demonstration of organizational values and competencies.
 - c. Quality, quantity, and timeliness of work.
 - d. Feedback from relevant stakeholders (clients, peers, etc.).

e. Compliance with company policies and procedures.

5. Review Meeting:

- A performance review meeting will be scheduled at a mutually agreed time.
- The manager and employee will discuss the self-assessment, manager evaluation, and any other relevant feedback.
- Strengths, areas for improvement, and development opportunities will be identified.
- The employee will be given an opportunity to raise concerns or suggest adjustments.

6. Development Plan:

- Based on the review, a personalized development plan will be created, outlining:
 - a. Specific training or skill development needs.
 - b. Opportunities for career progression.
 - c. Any corrective actions required to address performance gaps.

7. Documentation:

- The completed performance review form will be signed by both the manager and the employee.
- A copy will be provided to the employee, and the original will be securely stored in the employee's HR file.

Performance Ratings

The following rating scale will be used during the evaluation process:

1. Exceeds Expectations: Consistently exceeds performance standards in all areas.
2. Meets Expectations: Consistently meets performance standards.
3. Needs Improvement: Meets some performance standards but requires improvement in specific areas.
4. Does Not Meet Expectations: Fails to meet performance standards in most areas.

Responsibilities

HR Department:

1. Develop and maintain performance review templates and tools.
2. Provide training to managers and employees on the performance review process.
3. Ensure timely scheduling and completion of reviews.
4. Maintain confidentiality of performance review records.

Managers:

1. Clearly communicate performance expectations and provide ongoing feedback.
2. Conduct fair and unbiased evaluations based on objective criteria.
3. Document performance discussions and development plans accurately.
4. Support employees in achieving their development goals.

Employees:

1. Actively participate in the performance review process.
2. Complete self-assessments honestly and thoroughly.
3. Implement agreed-upon development plans and seek assistance when needed.

Exceptions and Special Circumstances

1. Employees on extended leave will have their reviews deferred as stated in the Eligibility Criteria.
2. In cases where an employee's performance is deteriorating significantly, an interim review may be conducted to address issues and create an improvement plan.
3. Employees undergoing disciplinary action may be subject to a specialized performance improvement plan (PIP) instead of the standard review process.

Confidentiality

All performance review discussions, forms, and related documents are confidential and accessible only to the employee, the manager, HR, and authorized personnel. Breaches of confidentiality may lead to disciplinary action.

Appeals

If an employee disagrees with their performance evaluation, they may:

1. Discuss their concerns with their manager within five business days of receiving the review.
2. If unresolved, escalate the matter to the HR department for mediation.

3. Submit a formal appeal in writing, including detailed reasons for the disagreement.

Compliance with Lebanese Labour Law

This policy complies with Article 50 of the Lebanese Labour Law, which emphasizes the importance of fair treatment in performance-related matters. Employees have the right to contest performance reviews if they believe the process was unfair or biased.

Policy Review and Updates

This policy will be reviewed annually by the HR department to ensure its relevance and alignment with organizational goals and legal requirements. Updates will be communicated to all employees in writing.

Effective Date

This policy is effective as of the date of its publication and supersedes all previous performance review policies.

By adhering to this policy, inmind.ai aims to create a fair and consistent performance management process that fosters employee growth and organizational success.