

Employee Onboarding Policy

Category: Onboarding | Effective: January 2025 | Version 1.0

Employee Onboarding Policy

1. Purpose

The purpose of this policy is to outline the onboarding process at inmind.ai to ensure new hires are effectively integrated into the company's culture, operations, and compliance with Lebanese Labour Law. This policy establishes procedures, responsibilities, and expectations to facilitate a smooth transition for employees starting their roles.

2. Scope

This policy applies to all newly hired employees at inmind.ai, including full-time, part-time, temporary, and contractual employees.

3. Objectives

- To provide new employees with the tools and resources necessary for success in their roles.
- To ensure legal compliance with Lebanese Labour Law, including proper registration with the National Social Security Fund (NSSF).
- To foster a welcoming and inclusive workplace culture.
- To provide clarity on job responsibilities, performance expectations, and company policies.

4. Pre-Onboarding Procedures

4.1 Offer Letter and Employment Contract

- The Human Resources (HR) department is responsible for issuing a formal offer letter and employment contract to the selected candidate. These documents must clearly outline the terms of employment, including job title, salary, benefits, probationary period, and any other relevant conditions.
- Candidates must sign and return the offer letter and contract within five (5) business days of receipt.

4.2 Pre-Employment Documentation

- The candidate must provide the following documents before their first day of employment:
 - Valid ID or passport.
 - Social security number for NSSF registration.
 - Copies of academic certificates and professional qualifications.
 - Bank account details for salary transfers.
 - Any other documents requested by HR.
- HR will verify the authenticity of these documents and ensure compliance with Lebanese Labour Law.

4.3 Workspace and Equipment Preparation

- The IT and Facilities departments are responsible for preparing the employee's workspace and equipment, including laptops, access cards, and email accounts. This must be completed at least two (2) business days before the employee's start date.

5. Day One Onboarding

5.1 Welcome Session

- On the first day, the HR department will conduct a welcome session to introduce the new employee to the company's mission, vision, values, and organizational structure.
- The session will also include an overview of key policies, including:
 - Code of Conduct.
 - Anti-Harassment Policy.
 - Health and Safety Guidelines.

5.2 Team Introduction

- The new employee's manager will introduce them to their team and explain the team's structure and key responsibilities.

- A designated team member may be assigned as a "buddy" to assist the new employee during their first month.

5.3 NSSF Registration and Legal Compliance

- HR will ensure the employee is registered with the NSSF within fifteen (15) days of starting their employment, as mandated by Lebanese Labour Law.
- A copy of the NSSF registration confirmation will be provided to the employee.

6. Onboarding During the First Month

6.1 Training and Development

- The employee will undergo role-specific training during the first month, which may include:
 - Technical training.
 - Software and tools orientation.
 - Compliance training on Lebanese Labour Law and company policies.
- Managers are responsible for creating a training schedule tailored to the employee's role.

6.2 Performance Goals and Expectations

- Within the first week, the manager will meet with the employee to:
 - Set performance goals for the probationary period.
 - Explain key performance indicators (KPIs) and evaluation criteria.
- The manager will provide a written summary of these goals to the employee and HR.

6.3 Probation Period Review

- All new employees are subject to a three-month probationary period, in accordance with Lebanese Labour Law.
- During the probationary period:
 - Managers must conduct bi-weekly check-ins with the employee to provide feedback.
 - Employees are encouraged to discuss any challenges or concerns.
- At the end of the probationary period, a formal evaluation will determine whether the employee will be confirmed in their role.

7. Responsibilities

7.1 HR Department

- Coordinate all aspects of the onboarding process.
- Ensure compliance with Lebanese Labour Law, including timely NSSF registration.
- Provide support to both the new employee and their manager during the onboarding process.

7.2 Managers

- Prepare training schedules and set performance expectations.
- Provide regular feedback and support to the new employee.
- Facilitate team introductions and integration.

7.3 New Employees

- Complete all required pre-employment paperwork and provide necessary documentation.
- Actively participate in training and onboarding sessions.
- Seek clarification on policies, procedures, or job responsibilities as needed.

8. Exceptions

- Exceptions to any aspect of this policy must be approved in writing by the HR Manager.
- Temporary employees may have a modified onboarding process, subject to the terms of their contract.
- Employees starting remotely may have virtual onboarding sessions, with physical documentation to be completed at the first in-person opportunity.

9. Policy Review

This policy will be reviewed annually to ensure compliance with Lebanese Labour Law and alignment with company objectives. Changes to the policy will be communicated to all employees in a timely manner.

10. Enforcement

Failure to adhere to the onboarding policy may result in delays in employment processes or disciplinary action, depending on the severity of the non-compliance. Managers and HR are responsible for ensuring the policy is implemented fairly and consistently.

11. Effective Date

This policy is effective immediately and supersedes any previous onboarding guidelines or procedures.
